Subject: Surface Water Data
Date: 04/05/2006 03:24 PM

Currently, surface water is only available in SCRA format. Much of the other site data is also available as raw data. For example, all Query Manager (QM) data is imported into raw format, not a summed SCRA database format. EPA requests that the surface water data be provided as raw data in access format to facilitate agency review of contaminant fate and transport processes and BSAF development. We do not need the data in QM format at this time because we are unsure whether QM can handle surface water data.

If you have any questions about this request, please contact Chip or myself.

Thanks, Eric
